Closing of Cheryl-Ann Webster's Beautiful Women Project On display August 6th-September 17th.

Cheryl-Ann's Beautiful Women Project closes this week and saw more than 2300 visitors for the month of August alone. We will be removing the sculptures, packing and shipping the ladies to Waterloo over the coming days. That said, the entire gallery will again be re-hung as the fall approaches on Sunday September 18th and 19th.

THANK YOU!

Thank you to all artists and friends who have assisted us in making Cheryl-Ann Webster's Beautiful Women Project a huge success. Artist and their families painted, lifted heavy crates, built walls, made food, welcomed visitors and explained the project. Without the collective effort of our artist community, exhibiting a large-scale contemporary sculpture exhibition wouldn't have been possible!

Fall at the Gallery

All artists are encouraged to bring in new work as the weather cools off and in preparation for Pumpkinfest/Thanksgiving weekends. The gallery continues to be very busy with customers and will remain open 7 days a week well into the fall.

Please let Alanna know of any recent exhibitions, awards, or unique projects you are working on so that we can post this into our newsletters. These public monthly newsletters will be available on our website, shared on Facebook and distributed electronically. Submissions are on a first come first serve basis.

Earlier this month, sculptor Ruta Wilson's "unique" horse Casey rolled into Southampton and took a trip to the distillery district in Downtown Toronto.
